Rugged Tigers Lose To Rosary Unit, 6-0

An aggressive Holy Rosary 11 battered to a third period touchdown here last night to hand the Circleville Tigers a 6-0 defeat.

The loss, the Tigers' first in two outings, was a rough and tumble contest from the outset. Rosary completely dominated offensive statistics, but Circleville had nothing to be ashamed of in the defensive department.

Rosary threatened twice in the second quarter, but each time CHS defenders rose to the occasion to stop the visitors inside the 10-yard line.

The lone touchdown came following the second half kickoff. Rosary gained possession on its own 42 and moved 58 yards in 17 plays. Quarterback Jim Long plunged into the end zone from three yards out to clinch the drive.

THE try for extra points fizzled when Long's pass to halfback Steve French fell harmlessly to the ground.

Circleville suffered woefully on offense, collecting only two first downs. Both came in the second half. Rosary, meanwhile, pounded away for 15 first-and-tens on the ground and one by passing.

With left half Robert Davis and fullback Pat Canini leading the way, Rosary chewed up 217 yards on the ground and 35 more through the air.

Circleville's offense showed only 78 yards on the ground and none in four pass attempts.

Davis and Canini were thorns in the side all evening. Although they didn't break away for long dashes, their short and efficient plunges were all Rosary needed to keep the Tigers with their backs to the wall.

In all respects, the game was a defensive struggle with both teams showing plenty of power in mowing down runners. Rosary, fielding perhaps its best team ever in the long series with Circleville, allowed CHS to move the ball across the 50-yard line only once, in the third period.

THE TIGERS managed to get the ball to the enemy 44, only to lose the pigskin on a fumble. The Rosary line was big and rugged, composed mostly of senior veterans who kept CHS backs well in check.

Circleville's defensive was sparked by some stellar play on the part of linebacker Asa Elsea and middle guard Marion Morrison, both turning in some cracking tackles. Ends Jim Woods, Dick Greenlee and Leo Moats also worked hard protecting the flanks as did halfbacks Walt Arledge, Ray Phifer and Roger Wolfe in the secondary.

Circleville suffered a tough break in the opening minutes when a 15-yard holding penalty killed what appeared to be an early march. The Tigers were forced to punt and the picture then turned in favor of Holy Rosary.

Premier DeGaulle in Quandary As Ex-Colonies Back Rebels

PARIS (AP) — The former French colonies of Morocco and Tunisia put Premier de Gaulle's government into a diplomatic quandry today by back' the new Algerian rebel government in its war against France.

The two newly independent nations flanking France's big North African territory defied the French warning that any country recognizing the Exile Republic of Algeria would be committing an unfriendly act.

If De Gaulle follows up the warning by breaking diplomatic relations with Tunisia and Morocco, he will eliminate them as possible intermediaries in any future peace talks to end the 4-year-old Algerian fight for independence.

France has refused up to now to negotiate with rebel leaders, although President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has always hoped to bring the two sides together for a peaceful settlement. Bourguiba reportedly opposed the establishment of a rebel government because it would lessen the chance of talks, but he had to go along with recognition to avoid dangerous criticism.

A break with France also could force Tunisia and Morocco to seek support and financial aid elsewhere — possibly President Nasser's United Arab Republic or even the Soviet bloc. France still has some troops in Tunisia and Morocco and contributes to their economies.

Lima Phone Firm's Value Set 'Too High'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Utilities Commission staff members say the value of Lima Telephone and Telegraph Co. is 11 per cent less than the company figures.

That conclusion was in a report commission staff members made Friday in connection with the company's $530,000 annual rate increase request. The company claims it is not earning a reasonable amount of money under present rates.

Company officials believe the valuation, sometimes called the rate base, should be $14,759,882. But commission engineers, under the direction of Paul Hampton, set the figure at $13,090,440.

Commission accountants, under Ed Knaub, calculated that if the company gets all of the rate increase it wants, it will earn 7.56 per cent on its rate base. Under Ohio law, a telephone company is permitted a fair and reasonable earning rate, calculated on the rate base.

The company has almost 40,000 telephones in service in Allen, Auglaize, Hancock, Hardin, Logan, Putnam and Van Wert counties. Hampton said in his report that engineers found errors in the company's inventory and appraisal "of such magnitude as to render it useless."

At that point, commission engineers halted work of checking company figures and conferred with the company. Then the company redid parts of the inventory.

Ike Expected To Turn Down Khrush's Tough Warning

Progress Made Supplying Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The top U. S. commander in the Pacific said today considerable progress had been made in getting supplies to Quemoy during the last two weeks. As he spoke, the Nationalists announced another supply convoy had cracked the Communist blockade.

Adm. Harry D. Felt flew in for conferences with Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek at the start of the fifth week of the Formosa Strait crisis. Felt described the situation as serious but said "I am not discouraged." Asked whether the United States had sufficient forces in the Pacific to deal with any situation, he replied "The forces are very, very strong and quite adequate."

Felt declined to comment on whether the American military buildup on Formosa would continue.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry did not say how many cargo ships reached Quemoy today or how much cargo they discharged.

The Communist shore batteries poured in 1,034 shells while the ships were at the beach, but the Nationalists said they withdrew safely.

Earlier the Nationalists claimed a naval victory over Communist torpedo boats.

Two Nationalist gunboats tangled with three Communist PT boats shortly before midnight Friday night, the Defense Ministry said. It claimed one torpedo boat was sunk in the action 35 miles south of Quemoy and the other two fled.

One Nationalist gunboat suffered flight damage but no casualties, the ministry reported. Foreign newsmen are now barred from the Quemoy area and were unable to confirm the claims.

Little Rock Whites Call For School

200 Pull Out, Seek Admission to Other Educational Units

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A television station scheduled an educational broadcast today for students closed-down high schools. But some white pupils were calling for regular classes, even on an integrated basis.

Tension was high over the school closing, ordered by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to prevent the attendance of seven Negroes at Central High School.

More than 200 students have transferred out of Central, Hall High and Tech High. Only Horace Mann High School for Negroes has had no withdrawals.

At all-white Hall, 130 students — more than one-sixth of the 731-member student body — had pulled out as of Friday. Central had 80 transfers this week and Tech had one.

Sixty-five Hall High students met at a church Friday and adopted a resolution pleading for the immediate reopening of their school as a public school.

The resolution said they feared education would suffer if Hall remained closed and urged that classes resume "even if, upon reopening, qualified Negro students of the Hall High district may be assigned to classes in our school."

Leaders of the group said copies of the resolution would be mailed to Faubus and to federal officials. David Johnson, a Student Council leader who helped arrange the meeting, said he thought the resolution conveyed the feeling of most Hall High students.

Faubus commented on the students' resolution Friday night while en route to Lexington, Ky., to attend a four-day meeting of the Southern Governors Conference.

At Danville, Ky., the governor said "65 out of 4,000 students doesn't seem like very many to me."

Enrollment in the four high schools totaled 3,698 before the transfers started, school records showed.

Faubus wouldn't comment on reports that the Little Rock school board feared to reopen the schools as private and segregated institutions. Nor would he talk about a report that he was considering letting Horace Mann High open as an integrated school to relieve pressure on students anxious to get back to their studies.

The governor has asked the school board to voluntarily hand over all four schools to a private corporation formed this week but the board has not answered his request.

Reveler's Pistol Shot Brings Rare Accident

JALAPA, Mexico (AP) — Feliciano Dominguez shouted "Viva Mexico" on independence day and fired his pistol into the air.

The bullet cut a high tension line. It fell, killing one man and injuring 15 others.

The mayor of Villa Ursula Galvan reported Friday that the accident occurred during independence celebrations last Monday in his village 50 miles from this capital of Veracruz State.

Soviet Premier Tells U.S. To Leave Formosa

Unless U.S. Pulls Out, Chinese Reds To Use Force, Kremlin Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is expected to reject promptly and firmly Premier Khrushchev's tough warning that the United States abandon Formosa or face "expulsion" by Communist China.

In a new letter to Eisenhower Friday, the Soviet Premier spurned a presidential bid to use his influence with the Chinese Communists to end the present Far Eastern crisis.

Khrushchev said Formosa belongs to Red China. If the United States does not abandon Nationalist China and pull out American forces, he said, "no other way will be left to people's (Red) China except expulsion of armed forces hostile to it from its own territory."

The Khrushchev letter, handed to Richard Davis, ranking U.S. diplomat now in Moscow, replied to a letter from Eisenhower Sept. 12.

In that letter Eisenhower told Khrushchev that if he was really interested in working for peace he would use his influence to get the Chinese Reds to stop aggressive acts in the Formosa area.

The Reds have been bombarding the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy since Aug. 23. They also have been threatening broader military action aimed at eventual capture of Formosa, the Nationalist stronghold about 100 miles from the China mainland.

The 13-page Khrushchev letter was translated at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow before being transmitted here. A summary was broadcast by Radio Moscow even before the State Department had time to notify Eisenhower, vacationing at Newport, R.I., that a new message was on the way.

At Newport, there was no immediate comment from Eisenhower on the Khrushchev note.

Pending study of the full text today, the State Department withheld comment.

Secretary of State Dulles, returning here from the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York, had nothing to say on the letter Friday night.

But officials noted privately that the United States has long been committed to the defense of Formosa against Communist attack and is supporting the Chinese Nationalists to some degree in their present efforts to stand firm on Quemoy. The United States has no intention of abandoning Formosa under threat from Moscow, these officials said.

Western diplomats in the Soviet capital said they did not consider Khrushchev's letter an ultimatum, but rather a strongly worded reply to match the tone of Eisenhower's note of Sept. 12. In that note, Eisenhower put full blame for the current crisis on the Chinese Reds.

Cuban Rebels Say Columns Advancing

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban rebels say two of their armed columns spreading out from Fidel Castro's southeast Cuban stronghold now have penetrated into Las Villas Province in central Cuba.

Four other columns are continuing their advance, a rebel broadcast Friday night claimed. It said seven government soldiers had been killed and five captured.

President Fulgencio Batista's army headquarters in Havana has been silent on the reported rebel offensive.

The broadcast said two rebels had been killed. A wounded rebel was listed as a North American named Richard Hellman.

Identify Mystery Red Feather Man

Want a pair of free passes to the Grand Theater?

Keep your eyes open starting Tuesday for the 1958 Pickaway County Community Fund "Red Feather Man".

He's a mystery man who, when identified properly, will hand out passes to the Grand starting next Tuesday.

The Red Feather Man will go about his usual business which covers Circleville. He will have 10 passes to give away each day. The first five people who identify him properly will be handed a pair of free duets.

Check your neighbor. Ask Dad. It might be Uncle Louie. When you think you know who the Red Feather Man is, just say, "You are the 1958 Pickaway County Community Fund Red Feather Man."

The words have to be correct, or no passes.

There are some simple rules to the mystery game. Only one set of passes will be given in a business establishment each day — to the person who first identifies the Red Feather Man and says the key words. He'll also pass out only 10 passes a day — two each to the first five lucky identifiers.

The Red Feather Man is well known in the community. He will have some identification on his person indicating he is indeed the Red Feather Man.

Business Group Works for Fund

C. T. VAUGHAN

ED EBERT

The vital Business Division of the Pickaway County Community Fund is working hard this week and next, trying to do its share in collecting $28,500 for the 1958 fund drive.

The Business Division, which handles downtown and neighborhood retail establishments, is headed by C. T. Vaughan, Northridge Road. Vaughan is associated with the General Electric Co. He is assisted by Ed Ebert, of the Pickaway Dairy.

Handling details are four captains of the division, E. Bonner Ezell in the northeast area; R. C. Kifer, northwest; Bruce Crowell, southeast; and George Fuhrman, southwest.

Last year the Business Division contributed nearly $4,000 toward the Community Fund, a substantial part of the goal.

The 1958 Community Fund will finance the upcoming operations of five vital county agencies—Salvation Army, Youth Canteen, Red Cross, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Without the funds collected in the all-in-one campaign, the work of these five agencies would have to be greatly curtailed.

THIS YEAR'S goal, $28,500, is less than the $28,700 goal of last year. The budget to be allotted to the Salvation Army, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts remains the same, while the Red Cross budget has been chopped and the Youth Canteen budget increased.

Plans call for a progress report by Industry, Business and Special Groups solicitors Monday. Training sessions for the county and residential solicitations, which will begin Sept. 29, will be held Wednesday and Thursday.

Smog Bonus Awarded Boys

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Twenty tearful messengers told their boss Friday that unless they got a bonus they wouldn't ride their bikes.

Herman Levy, operator of the Action Messenger Service, took one look outside, wiped his eyes and agreed to pay the boys time and a half on smoggy days.

Los Angeles has been having its worst smog attack of the year.

Mavis Station Burglarized

The Fred Mavis Service Station, E. Main and Mound Sts., was entered during the night, according to the local police and sheriff departments.

Mavis said an inventory was being taken today to determine the amount of loot taken.

The entry was discovered at 4:26 a. m. by Sgt. Robert Temple and Patrolman John Lockard. They said entry was made by forcing a rear door.

Under supervision of the local Jaycees and the Standard Oil Company of America, 12 youths from here and the county competed in a driving test and were then given written examinations to test their knowledge of traffic safety rules and the handling of automobiles. From left to right in the front row are Jayne Baynes, Route 1, second place in the Girls' Division, Girls' winner, Carolyn Newton, Route 1, Ashville, who scored a total of 290 of a possible 300 points, and Rita Jane Binkley, 158 Watt St., third place. In the back row are Paul E. Dean, Route 2, Williamsport, third place winner, Marcus Albright, Pickaway Twp. High School student driver instructor and judge of the Road-e-o, and second place winner, Keith Sheets, Route 4. It is hoped by the Jaycees that all driver training teachers throughout the county will become interested in this event and encourage their students to point for this event which will be held in the spring of 1959. Boys' winner of the event was Edwin C. Leatherwood, Ashville. (Staff Photo)

Corn Support Vote Planned

Farmers in commercial corn counties will have an opportunity to vote their choice between two corn price support-production programs, Marvin Steely, chairman, Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

In accordance with agricultural legislation enacted late in August of this year, corn producers in the commercial area will select a single program from two offered in a referendum to be held sometime before Dec. 15, 1958. The new act puts the decision between two price-support programs squarely up to the producer. A majority vote will decide the issue.

The vote will be on whether acreage allotments and the commercial corn area will be discontinued, with the support level for corn at 90 per cent of the average price received by farmers for the preceding three years but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

If, however, the new program is not approved by a majority of those voting, corn acreage allotments will continue to be in effect in the commercial corn area, and the minimum level of support for corn will continue to be between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, the actual level to be determined—as in the past—on the basis of the supply percentage.

New Holland Books in Order; Boundary Dispute Still Irks

New Holland finances during the past two years were in generally good order, according to a report released today by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The report covers the period from May 17, 1956, through last May 5.

The balance in the general fund at the beginning of the audit period amounted to $1,656.16. Receipts during the period were $36,422.63 while expenses were $37,564.34. The concluding balance totaled $514.45.

The waterworks operation fund showed collections of $19,344.48 during the audit period. Collections in the mayor's office amounted to $555.92.

Richard Kirkpatrick is the village treasurer.

The report notes that there is a dispute about the village boundary line in Fayette County. The map, the village officials and residents claim one location for the boundary line, the report continues, while Fayette County claims another.

Since the area in dispute is large, the examiner states, and the tax revenue of importance to the village, it would be advisable for village officials to take prompt action to clarify the situation.

THE DISAGREEMENT centers on whether Belk's Rathskeller, at the west edge of the village, is or is not within the corporation, a part of which extends into Fayette County while the greater part is in Pickaway County.

Some New Hollanders believe that the village should receive approximately $200 annually in liquor license fees accruing from its operation.

At present these fees are paid to Marion Twp. Fayette County, on the grounds that the village line bisects the tavern and that the bar itself lies on the Fayette side of the boundary while the rest of the building is in New Holland proper.

While the dispute continues, there has been no formal effort to establish the actual line. If the actual boundary is a few feet west, then New Holland would benefit from an additional amount of real estate taxes in addition to the permit fees.

New Law Puts 'Other' Grain On Supports

Price support now is mandatory for oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums under the recently passed Agricultural Act of 1958, Marvin Steely, chairman of the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

These "other" feed grains, generally speaking, have been on the "permissive" list, Steely explained. This means that the Secretary of Agriculture was permitted to make price support available for the crop at his discretion. The new law makes price support compulsory for the "other" feed grains.

Beginning with the 1959 crops, price support for oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums will be at a level determined to be fair and reasonable in relation to the price support for corn, taking into consideration the feed value of the commodity in relation to corn, the availability of funds, the ability of producers to keep supplies in line with demand, and other factors considered in previous years.

One thing stands out in the overall feed grain picture, Steely pointed out, and that is the big supply. For the coming marketing year, the supply of feed grains and feed concentrates will be at an all-time high—more than 230 million tons.

This is enough feed to supply each of the 169 million grain-consuming animal units on the nation's farms in the 1958-59 feeding year with more than 1 1/3 tons of feed.

Three Vo-Ag Men Contribute to Heifer Shipment

Gene Houser, Farrell Crago and Hillis Hall, teachers of Vocational Agriculture in Pickaway County shared with their fellow teachers throughout the state in sending 40 messages of goodwill to Turkey. The goodwill tokens are in the form of 40 Holstein heifers, sent cooperatively by Ohio's 350 teachers of Vocational Agriculture, the 12,500 Future Farmers of America in Ohio and more than 3,000 Young Farmers.

The heifers will provide foundation breeding stock for needy families in Turkey and will be spread throughout many communities with a certain percentage of the animals' milk production to be made available to babies and undernourished mothers. The 40 animals were selected for their outstanding production records.

Each chapter in the county gave its contribution for this project.

D. R. Purkey, Executive Secretary of the Ohio Association of Future Farmers of America, will, along with John Starling, president of the Ohio Vocational Agricultural Teachers Assn., accompany the young animals on their flight to Turkey. The heifers were assembled during the Ohio State Fair and were presented to Inal Yamaer, first secretary of the Turkish Embassy, Washington D. C., who accepted them in behalf of the farmers of Turkey.

Rugged Tigers Lose To Rosary Unit, 6-0

An aggressive Holy Rosary 11 battered to a third period touchdown here last night to hand the Circleville Tigers a 6-0 defeat.

The loss, the Tigers' first in two outings, was a rough and tumble contest from the outset. Rosary completely dominated offensive statistics, but Circleville had nothing to be ashamed of in the defensive department.

Rosary threatened twice in the second quarter, but each time CHS defenders rose to the occasion to stop the visitors inside the 10-yard line.

The lone touchdown came following the second half kickoff. Rosary gained possession on its own 42 and moved 58 yards in 17 plays. Quarterback Jim Long plunged into the end zone from three yards out to climax the drive.

THE try for extra points fizzled when Long's pass to halfback Steve French fell harmlessly to the ground.

Circleville suffered woefully on offense, collecting only two first downs. Both came in the second half. Rosary, meanwhile, pounded away for 15 first-and-tens on the ground and one by passing.

With left half Robert Davis and fullback Pat Canini leading the way, Rosary chewed up 217 yards on the ground and 35 more through the air.

Circleville's offense showed only 78 yards on the ground and none in four pass attempts.

Davis and Canini were thorns in the side all evening. Although they didn't break away for long dashes, their short and efficient plunges were all Rosary needed to keep the Tigers with their backs to the wall.

In all respects, the game was a defensive struggle with both teams showing plenty of power in mowing down runners. Rosary, fielding perhaps its best team ever in the long series with Circleville, allowed CHS to move the ball across the 50-yard line only once, in the third period.

THE TIGERS managed to get the ball to the enemy 44, only to lose the pigskin on a fumble. The Rosary line was big and rugged, composed mostly of senior veterans who kept CHS backs well in check.

Circleville's defense was sparked by some stellar play on Circleville suffered a tough break in the opening minutes when a 15-yard holding penalty killed what appeared to be an early march. The Tigers were forced to punt and the picture then turned in favor of Holy Rosary.

Ike Expected To Turn Down Khrush's Tough Warning

Progress Made Supplying Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The top U. S. commander in the Pacific said today considerable progress had been made in getting supplies to Quemoy during the last two weeks. As he spoke, the Nationalists announced another supply convoy had cracked the Communist blockade.

Adm. Harry D. Felt flew in for conferences with Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek at the start of the fifth week of the Formosa Strait crisis. Felt described the situation as serious but said "I am not discouraged." Asked whether the United States had sufficient forces in the Pacific to deal with any situation, he replied "The forces are very, very strong and quite adequate."

Felt declined to comment on whether the American military buildup on Formosa would continue.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry did not say how many cargo ships reached Quemoy today or how much cargo they discharged. The Communist shore batteries poured in 1,034 shells while the ships were at the beach, but the Nationalists said they withdrew safely.

Earlier the Nationalists claimed a naval victory over Communist torpedo boats.

Two Nationalist gunboats tangled with three Communist PT boats shortly before midnight Friday night, the Defense Ministry said. It claimed one torpedo boat was sunk in the action 35 miles south of Quemoy and the other two fled.

One Nationalist gunboat suffered flight damage but no casualties, the ministry reported. Foreign newsmen are now barred from the Quemoy area and were unable to confirm the claims.

Little Rock Whites Call For School

200 Pull Out, Seek Admission to Other Educational Units

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A television station scheduled an educational broadcast today for students closed-down high schools. But some white pupils were calling for regular classes, even on an integrated basis.

Tension was high over the school closing, ordered by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to prevent the attendance of seven Negroes at Central High School.

More than 200 students have transferred out of Central, Hall High and Tech High. Only Horace Mann High School for Negroes has had no withdrawals.

At all-white Hall, 130 students—more than one-sixth of the 731-member student body—had pulled out as of Friday. Central had 80 transfers this week and Tech had one.

Sixty-five Hall High students met at a church Friday and adopted a resolution pleading for the immediate reopening of their school as a public school.

The resolution said they feared education would suffer if Hall remained closed and urged that classes resume "even if, upon reopening, qualified Negro students of the Hall High district may be assigned to classes in our school."

Leaders of the group said copies of the resolution would be mailed to Faubus and to federal officials. David Johnson, a Student Council leader who helped arrange the meeting, said he thought the resolution conveyed the feeling of most Hall High students.

Faubus commented on the students' resolution Friday night while en route to Lexington, Ky., to attend a four-day meeting of the Southern Governors' Conference.

At Danville, Ky., the governor said "65 out of 4,000 students doesn't seem like very many to me."

Enrollment in the four high schools totaled 3,698 before the transfers started, school records showed.

Faubus wouldn't comment on reports that the Little Rock school board feared to reopen the schools as private and segregated institutions. Nor would he talk about a report that he was considering an integrated school to relieve pressure on students anxious to get back to their studies.

The governor has asked the school board to voluntarily hand over all four schools to a private corporation formed this week but the board has not answered his request.

Reveler's Pistol Shot Brings Rare Accident

JALAPA, Mexico (AP) — Feliciano Dominguez shouted "Viva Mexico" on independence day and fired his pistol into the air.

The bullet cut a high tension line. It fell, killing one man and injuring 15 others.

The mayor of Villa Ursulo Galvan reported Friday that the accident occurred during independence celebrations last Monday in his village 50 miles from this capital of Veracruz State.

Soviet Premier Tells U.S. To Leave Formosa

Unless U.S. Pulls Out, Chinese Reds To Use Force, Kremlin Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is expected to reject promptly and firmly Premier Khrushchev's tough warning that the United States abandon Formosa or face "expulsion" by Communist China.

In a new letter to Eisenhower Friday, the Soviet Premier spurned a presidential bid to use his influence with the Chinese Communists to end the present Far Eastern crisis.

Khrushchev said Formosa belongs to Red China. If the United States does not abandon Nationalist China and pull out American forces, he said, "no other way will be left to people's (Red) China except expulsion of armed forces hostile to it from its own territory."

The Khrushchev letter, handed to Richard Davis, ranking U.S. diplomat now in Moscow, replied to a letter from Eisenhower Sept. 12.

In that letter Eisenhower told Khrushchev that if he was really interested in working for peace he would use his influence to get the Chinese Reds to stop aggressive acts in the Formosa area.

The Reds have been bombarding the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy since Aug. 23. They also have been threatening broader military action aimed at eventual capture of Formosa, the Nationalist stronghold about 100 miles from the China mainland.

The 13-page Khrushchev letter was translated at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow before being transmitted here. A summary was broadcast by Radio Moscow even before the State Department had time to notify Eisenhower, vacationing at Newport, R.I., that a new message was on the way.

At Newport, there was no immediate comment from Eisenhower on the Khrushchev note. Pending study of the full text today, the State Department withheld comment.

Secretary of State Dulles, returning here from the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York, had nothing to say on the letter Friday night.

But officials noted privately that the United States has long been committed to the defense of Formosa against Communist attack and is supporting the Chinese Nationalists to some degree in their present efforts to stand firm on Quemoy. The United States has no intention of abandoning Formosa under threat from Moscow, these officials said.

Western diplomats in the Soviet capital said they did not consider Khrushchev's letter an ultimatum, but rather a strongly worded reply to match the tone of Eisenhower's note of Sept. 12. In that note, Eisenhower put full blame for the current crisis on the Chinese Reds.

Cuban Rebels Say Columns Advancing

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban rebels say two of their armed columns spreading out from Fidel Castro's southeast Cuban stronghold now have penetrated into Las Villas Province in central Cuba.

Four other columns are continuing their advance, a rebel broadcast Friday night claimed. It said seven government soldiers had been killed and five captured.

President Fulgencio Batista's army headquarters in Havana has been silent on the reported rebel offensive.

The broadcast said two rebels had been killed. A wounded rebel was listed as a North American named Richard Hellman.

Patience Exhausted

MEXICO, Mo. (AP) — Henry Brooks was granted a divorce from Anna Brooks Friday on the ground of desertion. She left him for another man in 1917.

Identify Mystery Red Feather Man

Want a pair of free passes to the Grand Theater? Keep your eyes open starting Tuesday for the 1958 Pickaway County Community Fund "Red Feather Man."

He's a mystery man who, when identified properly, will hand out passes to the Grand starting next Tuesday.

The Red Feather Man will go about his usual business which covers Circleville. He will have 10 passes to give away each day. The first five people who identify him properly will be handed a pair of free ducats.

Check your neighbor. Ask Dad. It might be Uncle Louie. When you think you know who the Red Feather Man is, just say, "You are the 1958 Pickaway County Community Fund Red Feather Man."

The words have to be correct, or no passes.

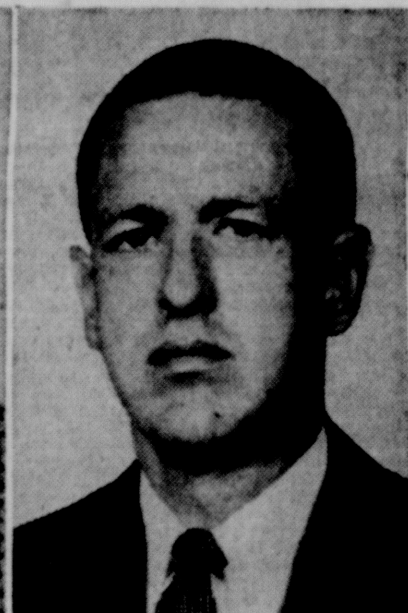

There are some simple rules to the mystery game. Only one set of passes will be given in a business establishment each day — to the person who first identifies the Red Feather Man and says the key words. He'll also pass out only 10 passes a day — two each to the first five lucky identifiers.

The Red Feather Man is well known in the community. He will have some identification on his person indicating he is indeed the Red Feather Man.

Business Group Works for Fund

ED EBERT

The vital Business Division of the Pickaway County Community Fund is working hard this week and next, trying to do its share in collecting $28,500 for the 1958 fund drive.

The Business Division, which handles downtown and neighborhood retail establishments, is headed by C. T. Vaughan, Northridge Road. Vaughan is associated with the General Electric Co. He is assisted by Ed Ebert, of the Pickaway Dairy.

Handling details are four captains of the division, E. Bonner Ezell in the northeast area; R. C. Kifer, northwest; Bruce Crowell, southeast, and George Fuhrman, southwest.

Last year the Business Division contributed nearly $4,000 toward the Community Fund, a substantial part of the goal.

The 1958 Community Fund will finance the upcoming operations of five vital county agencies—Salvation Army, Youth Canteen, Red Cross, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Without the funds collected in the all-in-one campaign, the work of these five agencies would have to be greatly curtailed.

THIS YEAR'S goal, $28,500, is less than the $28,700 goal of last year. The budget to be allotted to the Salvation Army, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts remains the same, while the Red Cross budget has been chopped and the Youth Canteen budget increased.

Plans call for a progress report by Industry, Business and Special Groups solicitors Monday. Training sessions for the county and residential solicitations, which will begin Sept. 29, will be held Wednesday and Thursday.

Smog Bonus Awarded Boys

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Twenty tearful messengers told their boss Friday that unless they got a bonus they wouldn't ride their bikes.

Herman Levy, operator of the Action Messenger Service, took one look outside, wiped his eyes and agreed to pay the boys time and a half on smoggy days.

Los Angeles had been having its worst smog attack of the year.

Rugged Tigers

and promptly moved the ball into Tiger territory where the pigskin remained for the rest of the half. They drove inside the Tiger 10, but were halted when halfbacks Wolfe and Arch Ward smothered a fourth down end run attempt.

Elsea punted out to the CHS 40, but the visitors came knocking again. They moved the ball to the CHS three only to be stopped there when Walt Arledge downed Canini who had taken a flat pass on a fourth and goal situation.

With his back to the wall, Elsea got off a kick which went only to the 24. However, Rosary fumbled on the next play and Circleville recovered.

AFTER CHS failed to get a first down, Elsea this time put his foot under the ball to send it sailing 46 yards to the Rosary 24. The visitors then picked up two first downs before the half ended.

After Rosary's third period touchdown drive, it appeared that the Tigers might launch an offensive. They picked up one first down, but lost the pigskin two plays later on a fumble.

Neither team picked up much yardage in the final quarter. Circleville gained possession of the ball three times but lost it twice on fumbles and was forced to punt once.

Coach Tom Bennett said he was disappointed with the Tigers' offensive showing, but praised his defensive unit. He said the tackling was solid throughout, although this was offset by some poor blocking which failed to open vital needed holes.

Coach Bennett added that plenty of blocking drills are in store for his charges starting Monday.

Other than minor bumps and bruises, Bennett said the Tigers came out of the test in good physical shape. This was not true in last week's 18-14 victory over Athens which resulted in the loss of fullback Larry Hannahs and tackle Harry Strawser.

BOTH of the injured Tigers sat on the sidelines last night. Their absence was clearly noted, especially the blocking ability of Strawser and the needed power running of Hannahs.

Walt Arledge made his first appearance in two weeks after being sidelined with a pulled leg muscle. He displayed his usual hardrunning although his left leg was taped from the knee up.

Coach Bennett said that much work is in store this week in preparation for Wilmington's invasion Friday night. It will mark the first South Central Ohio League game for both teams.

Here are the lineups:

CIRCLEVILLE

CHS Bandmen Give Modern Version of Teen-Age Date

That old high school nemesis, "Puppy Love", was the entertainment theme presented by the Circleville Marching Band during last night's CHS-Rosary football game here.

The CHS unit paraded onto the field led by Drum Major Sally Montgomery who had able assistance from majorettes Joan Vaughn, Phyllis McCoard, Linda Price, Diane Hudson and Judy Routzahn.

The bandmen pictured with music and formations a typical teen-age romance involving any high school "Frankie and Johnny".

Moving into the formation of a telephone, the CHS musicians indicated that Johnny was asking for a date. His request was made by the songs, "Hello My Baby" and "Dream of Love".

THE UNIT next pictured an outline of "Johnny's" hot rod, the modern version of Grandma and Grandpa's horse and buggy.

The teen-age date was climaxed as the band formed a juke box and swung out with a rock and roll number.

Truman Eberly's musicians climaxed the evening of entertainment by playing Circleville's Alma Mater, "The Red and Black".

Circleville Bandmothers Set for 'Mile of Pennies'

Announcement of the date and the plans for the project of the Circleville Bandmothers Assn., "Mile of Pennies for the Band", was made today by its president, Mrs. Ray W. Davis, Montclair Ave.

Grade school children from grades one through six will collect pennies in special coin cards, each of which holds 12 pennies. The holders were donated by the Circleville Savings and Banking Co., 118 N. Court St.

Prizes of $10 each will be given to the classroom in each of the eight grade school buildings which collect the most feet of pennies. In addition to the room prizes, individual prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be presented to children who take first, second and third place respectively in the number of filled cards returned.

Members of the junior and senior bands will also collect pennies and will be eligible to compete for the individual prizes.

THE CIRCLEVILLE Bandmothers Assn., made up of the 70 mothers of senior band members, each year must raise approximately $800. A total of $500 of this amount is set aside each year to replace uniforms at the end of 10 years.

The Bandmothers provide for buses to take the band to away games, pay for repair, fitting and replacement of uniforms each year and provide an annual "treat" for the members.

"We hope that everyone will save pennies for the band this fall," said Mrs. Davis. "A penny doesn't mean much nowadays, but if everyone empties his pockets at night into a container to keep for the school children, we'll have our Mile made quickly and painlessly."

"We hope that working in this manner, through the school children, we may give them a new interest in and concern for the band. Any activity which builds loyalty and cooperation is good," she continued.

Bandmothers will distribute and collect the coin cards each week of the project which runs from October 1 to Thanksgiving, November 24. Prizes will be presented November 26.

Remember the drive's slogan, "Lend a hand by giving a foot-of pennies", coined by J. C. VanPelt, 135 Reber Ave., executive vice president, of the Circleville Savings Bank. And keep in mind also, "Don't spend a red cent—Save it for the Band."

If a mile of pennies is obtained it will mean a total of $633.80 toward the goal set by the Bandmothers, a non-profit organization for the sole benefit of the local high school band.

Presbyterian

"Faith and Adversity," is the theme for the 10:30 a. m. hour of worship at the Presbyterian Church Sunday.

To anyone who understands our Christian faith aright in this modern age, a warm sense of joy and confidence surges up within at any mention or any thought of the Christ who is the Author and the Finisher of our faith. Yet we would hesitate to say that the purpose of Christianity is to bring happiness in the lives of men!

Why is this? Is it perhaps because the word "happiness" has been ruined by its associations with worldly comfort and self-indulgence?

Yet over against this we need a sound conception of Christian happiness that will stand the strain of adversity which comes to all who live to grow up. We need an underlying sense of joy that is not shaken by the things that happen around us. The wise do not wait until adversity thunders down upon them and caves in on their self-sufficiency; the time to prepare for the inevitable is now.

The Rev. Donald Mitchell will read the Scripture background for the message from the fourth chapter of the Book of Ecclesiastes where it is written: "Woe unto him who is alone when he falls and has not another to lift him up."

Sacred music in the worship will include the Christian hymns: "Immortal, Invisible"; "Come Ye Disconsolate"; "In Heavenly Love Abiding." At the organ Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play the Hovedefven "Meditation"; "Sonnet" by Dranados; "Praise the Lord" from a Saint-Saens oratorio.

High on a Hilltop

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

U.S. Cash Receipts Drop

There are aspects of an "agonizing reappraisal" in the U. S. Budget Bureau's mid-year review of the current federal budget. In January this forecast had been for federal receipts and expenditures relatively close to a balance at the $74-billion level.

Now the country is informed the present accelerated federal rate of spending and the sagging outlook on revenues will result in a deficit of more than $12 billion when accounts for fiscal 1959 are totaled up next June 30.

Despite the impression that may have been gained through action of Congress in loosening federal purse strings, spending accounts for the smaller share of the new figure which the Budget Bureau says can be expected to be written in red. Sixty per cent of the estimated deficit, or almost $7.5 billion, is laid to a prospective decline in tax receipts. Forty per cent or approximately $5 billion is charged to spending.

Only one-tenth of the increased spending is attributed to defense costs. The remaining amount includes such outlays as an additional $1.6 billion for agricultural price supports, $1 billion for anti-recession outlays, and $500 million to augment states' unemployment compensation benefits.

The government at Washington can easily adjust the federal debt limit to allow for deficits such as the Budget Bureau foresees for the present fiscal year. But the demands placed upon the taxpayer are something else. Somehow, someday, he will be called upon to supply the wherewithal to meet this spending.

Already there is talk of requests to Congress to boost the federal gasoline and tire levies, and to order a new increase in postal rates, to cut down the deficit.

And that is not the taxpayer's only concern with the present financial operations of the federal government. He must recognize that deficit spending creates the climate for inflation.

Cheapening the dollar will mean that he will get less for his money while paying more of it out in taxes to meet his share of Uncle Sam's mounting debts.

LeMay Wins Race with Time

The world generally has spared itself endless confusion in ceeping track of time by agreeing upon an international dateline—the meridian where each day begins. A day—say a Monday—takes off at the stroke of midnight from a starting line 180 degrees from Greenwich and chases the previous day around the globe and into the past.

During the process Monday extends its way westward from the dateline while Sunday's dominion diminishes. It follows that at the instant Monday finally completes its 24-hour trip about the globe it is Monday over the entire world. Then Tuesday takes up the task of devouring Monday.

This explains how it was that on his record-breaking Tokyo-to-Washington flight

Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay landed in Washington 32 minutes before he had taken off from Japan—using local time at each place.

The general, who is no novice in this business of air speed, didn't race the midnight hour westward about the globe. Instead his jet-powered KC 135 stratotanker traveled eastward by way of the Aleutians and then by a great circle route to Washington where he was waiting when the clock there reached the moment of his departure from Japan.

Confusing? A bit, perhaps. Most persons are accustomed to thinking in terms of a man keeping up with the times. This was a case of the time not keeping up with the man.

Right Age for Space Travel

There's comfort of a sort, for some of us at least, in the conclusion of scientists that outer space is no place for the chap more than 45 years of age.

The results of recent tests conducted in Colorado free those "oldsters" to contemplate the benefits of social security, leaving the stratosphere to youngsters who have more time and desire to get there.

Interesting, however, is the fact that the age limit for space men has been set by a 51-year-old physiologist. He discovered it while leading young volunteers up and down a 14,260-foot mountain.

Interesting too is the intrepid physiologist's conclusion that until an eager adventurer is 30 he is too young for acclimatization to extreme altitudes, and will do well to keep his feet relatively close to the ground.

This latter intelligence will doubtless come as a shock to the teenager champing at the bit to get behind the wheel of the family car, certain that he knows all there is to know about driving.

So for one age group the prospect of being planet-bound until age 30 may be disturbing, while for another that of waiting will be infinitely easier to bear.

No Easy Answer to China

By George Sokolsky

Dr. Richard C. Rodgers, chairman of the Palma Ceia Methodist Peace Commission, sent me a telegram from Tampa, Fla., starting with the sentence:

"Please devote all your energy to avert catastrophe that could develop from Far-Eastern crisis."

That telegram should have been sent to somebody in the 1920's, when the United States and Great Britain pursued a violently anti-Japanese policy in the Far East and paved the way for Soviet Russia eventually to conquer China.

That was one of the really great catastrophes in history. The anti-Japanese boycott in China in 1919, which was a result of the Students Strike and which led to the founding of the Chinese Communist Party, was hailed in the Western world as a great event. But the historical result in 1958 is the Formosan situation which is now faced by the Western world.

All of mankind dislikes war but some peoples are more cowardly than others. In China, where human life is cheap, feudal and civil wars are continuous and banditry is a normal condition. Banditry, in fact, is a usual product of surplus population in villages where the additional males, who cannot find agricultural work, have no way of earning a living except by banditry.

Thus private armies came into existence. Chiang Kai-shek spent from 1927 to 1948 trying to rid China of these private armies, the existence of which Gen. George Marshall could never understand because these are not normal in Western countries. In fact, Gen. Marshall and his advisers understood China too little to be of any value to the United States.

The Chinese Communists have to a degree solved the problem of the private armies by two methods: 1. The swift and efficient method of killing large numbers of persons but not enough quite to solve the problem of surplus population; 2. By industrialization which can absorb surplus population in mills, factories, mines, but which involves the proletarianization of a rural population which takes time. There might have been a third method, namely the migration of vast hordes to Europe. This is yet to come.

The point that must be emphasized to Dr. Rodgers and others who believe that the China problem can be solved by some United Nations gimmick is that it has been a long one in the making. It contains many social and economic complexities and will not be solved readily. It may produce many wars, the most serious one, a century or so from now, when China seeks to conquer Europe and establish a universal Chinese civilization.

If Red China is permitted to take Quemoy and Matsu, which are unimportant islands off the Fukien coast, what is to prevent Red China from taking Formosa and the Philippines? Nothing, except the military might and power and willingness to fight of the United States. Dr. Rodgers, in his telegram to me, says:

"... Even irresponsible nations should be in UN and experience world moral pressure."

Precisely in what way has world moral pressure influenced Soviet Russia or Nasser in their programs of establishing universal states? In what manner has world pressure asserted itself except to weaken the United States and to strengthen its enemies?

Dr. Rodgers wants a "more creative" approach to China policies to prevent war. All right! Let him suggest the "more creative" approach which will not turn over to Red China, Formosa, the Philippines, Malaya and Burma, the Pescadores, Nepal and Assam. It would be interesting to read such a program and to see precisely how it fits the realities of the Far Eastern situation.

I have devoted 40 years of my life to the problems of China. For nearly 14 of those 40 years, I lived in China with visits to Japan and Siberia. I lived one year in Russia during the beginning of the Revolution. I have travelled widely and knew most of the important men of my generation.

I have no "realistic" or "creative" program to offer. The course of events is shaped by millions of tiny factors which merge and combine and concatenate producing a sharp, focused picture at a given moment.

That we have today when Mao Tze-tung, the quiet, introverted student of philosophy in Peking University during the 1949 Students Strike, is seeking to establish a world state in the Far East with himself at the head.

THE GREAT CHARLES LAMB had one ambition that never was gratified; he longed to write a successful play. One of his dramas actually was produced in London, but lasted exactly one night. A friend of Lamb was astonished to find him in the back of the house, joining vigorously in the hissing when the final curtain descended. "I want to make sure they don't take me for the author," explained Lamb desperately. "They'd kill me!"

Radiation Tool of Doctors

By Herman N. Bondesen, M.D.

Talk about the effects of radiation upon us and future generations apparently is keeping many persons from obtaining needed chest X-rays, dental examinations and other roentgenotherapy.

Radiation in atomic warfare is one thing. Radiation in the medical field is something else again. Our doctors have a gigantic task to inform the public of the value of roentgenography and roentgenotherapy in diagnosing and treating various illnesses.

Necessary examinations performed by a competent physician, using professional equipment designed to minimize exposure, are not dangerous.

Several months ago, I told you that the American Trudeau Society, the medical organization of the National Tuberculosis Association, had investigated the matter and had recommended continued use of chest X-rays to diagnose tuberculosis except in specific instances.

It's true that most of the radiation the average person receives comes from diagnostic X-rays. In fact, roentgen diagnostic techniques account for several times the amount of radiation received by workers in radiologic services and atomic energy projects, according to the American Cancer Society.

The fluoroscope alone probably gives patients more radiation than any other single device. Physicians, of course, receive much more radiation than their patients. In fact, it's estimated that the average physician who performs fluoroscopy receives more radiation in one week than workers in most atomic plants get in an entire year!

If there is any danger, therefore, it is for the physician and not the patient. If your doctor is willing to continue his work, certainly you should be willing to let him help you as much as he can.

The single total lethal dose has been set at between 300 and 600 roentgens. The National Committee on Radiation Protection has set 15 roentgens per year as the accepted maximum and the Committee reports this figure is being lowered even further. So, you see, there is a tremendous safety margin.

It might be a good idea, however, for anyone who is undergoing frequent radiation treatments to keep a diary of cumulative exposures. It could be valuable should you have to consult a new doctor due to a change of residence or to travel.

Question and Answer

B. J.: What causes ankles to swell? Is it due to kidneys or heart?

Answer: The most common causes of swollen ankles are heart and kidney diseases. In kidney disease there may be a general swelling of the body. In heart disease the swelling is in the lower part of the body.

'One World' Government Pioneer Quits

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Fyke Farmer, whose efforts for a world government brought fleeting fame but scant success, abandoned his 12-year crusade Thursday to go to work. He's broke.

"I've sacrificed everything and have nothing else for the struggle," said Farmer. He is resuming his law practice here.

Farmer tangled with ex-President Truman over the Korean war, won a brief respite for doomed atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and even promoted a world constituent assembly at Geneva in 1950.

"I had to stop fighting for world government to make a living," said Farmer resignedly. "I can't voluntarily resign from life."

At an end are the lean Tennessee lawyer's two major attempts to further peace—through a world government and by getting nations to accept international law.

The latter try ended June 9 when the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review lower court rulings that Farmer must pay his 1949 income tax of $4,750.

Farmer had declined to pay the tax, arguing much of it would be used to finance the Korean War. He maintained wars were illegal under international law. Farmer failed in two attempts to subpoena former President Truman to appear in court for questioning on the conduct of the Korean conflict.

Polio Total Shows Climb During Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Polio cases totaled 399 last week, 193 of them paralytic. Both were the highest weekly counts reported this year.

The revised figures for the preceding week, ended Sept. 6, were 319 cases, 153 paralytic, the Public Health Service said today. Last week's 399 cases compared with 282 in the corresponding 1957 week. The 193 paralytic cases compared with 90 a year earlier.

Michigan listed the most polio cases of any state in its report last week, but the 120 reported included only one that had its onset during that week, ended Sept. 13.

Ohio reported 38 polio cases to rank second last week. New Jersey had 29, New York 27 and Texas 21. No other state reported as many as 20.

Since Jan. 1 there had been 2,942 polio cases reported, compared with 4,402 a year ago.

But the paralytic cases this year had numbered 1,417, or more than the 1,390 in the similar 1957 span.

Aluminum Combat Vehicle Perfected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today announced the development of a large combat vehicle so light that it will be transported largely by airplane.

The 13-man aluminum vehicle, called the T113, is an armored personnel carrier mounting a machine gun.

The carrier, armored in thick aluminum, is manufactured by the Food Machinery & Chemical Corp., San Jose, Calif.

The Army said one or more of the carriers will be flown to the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground; the ordnance tank automotive command at Detroit; Ft. Knox, Ky.; Ft. Benning, Ga.; and Ft. Greeley, Alaska.

Soldiers in the Belgian Army, under a new government ruling, will now be served butter instead of margarine.

California To Try 2nd Time To Settle Religious Question

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California will try again to settle a hot religious question at the polls this November. It'll be the second attempt in six years.

The question: Should parochial schools be exempt from property taxes?

In 1952 the voters said "Yes"—by a margin of less than 1 per cent.

This year the question is the same, but the setting is different. Nearly a million more voters have been added.

As in 1952, practically every politician—including the two candidates for governor—is on record for tax exemption. Any other position would alienate the Roman Catholic vote.

Opponents of tax exemption forced it to popular decision in 1952 after the Legislature approved the exemption 108-3. After the people narrowly approved it, opponents carried the fight to the U.S. Supreme Court but lost there also. Now they're trying again.

Opponents deny they are anti-Catholic. They say they oppose state subsidy of any sect.

"Shut flood gates to parochial school expansion at your expense," reads their argument in printed booklet distributed to all voters.

California has 1,076 elementary and high schools which would be affected. Of the total 643 are Catholic, 390 are Protestant, 4 are Jewish, and 39 are nonsectarian.

The Catholic schools have an enrollment of more than 270,000, more than 80 per cent of the private school total, and about 8 per cent of the state's total school enrollment.

Although California was opened to white settlement by Catholic missionaries in the 18th Century, it is now more strongly Protestant—statistically—than the nation as a whole.

There are 2,977,037 Catholics in the state, or about one out of every five persons. The national rate is more than one out of four.

How much in taxes is involved? State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood said it would have been less than 1 million dollars in 1956-57. And he said it would have cost the state 110 million dollars to educate the parochial pupils.

But opponents say the assessed value of private school property has grown from 14 million to 53 million dollars since 1953. They argue taxes should be paid on these properties just as on all other privately owned property.

O'Neill Stand On Union Shop Still Awaited

Governor May Delay Any Statement Until After Bricker Speaks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The top political question in Ohio right now: What, if any, stand is Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill going to take on the proposal to ban the union shop?

Political observers have been scanning his every utterance of late in search of clues. Some profess to see a hint that he will favor the proposal. Others speculate that he will be neutral.

Few see any indication that he will follow in the footsteps of his Democratic challenger, Michael V. DiSalle, and announce opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment.

DiSalle takes the attitude that while he is personally opposed to a union shop ban, the issue should not be a part of the campaign for governor.

Those who believe O'Neill already has tipped his hand in favor of the so-called "Right-to-Work" proposal point to the governor's increasingly frequent blasts at corrupt labor leaders.

But others point out that adoption or defeat of a union shop ban will have little or no effect on corruption in the labor movement.

Presumably informed guessers are speculating that O'Neill will take no stand on the issue until GOP Sen. John W. Bricker announces his. Bricker's announcement probably won't come for several weeks.

Privately, candidates are moaning over the scarcity of campaign contributions this year.

Some Republicans are blaming Ohioans for Right to Work, the organization which got the union shop ban proposed on the November ballot.

There is, they insist, only a certain amount of campaign money that can be wheedled out of contributors in any one year. The candidates say the Right-to-Work group simply got there first. That group has reported officially that it spent $144,000 to get the necessary signatures on its petitions. That doesn't include any campaign expenses.

Incidentally, the groups supporting the union shop ban proposal also are pleading poverty.

Both Democrats and Republicans are looking forward eagerly to the flood of newspaper endorsements which will be coming along shortly.

Each side, of course, will try to

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband died two months ago and his best friend has asked me to marry him. I am very fond of him and would like to do so.

I find that I get very lonely staying in my present apartment and Dan (I'll call him) would like to get married right away. On mentioning this to a friend or two, I found them shocked to hear that I would consider remarriage before a year had elapsed.

How long do you think I should wait before remarriage?

DEAR L.A.: If you and Dan are persons of stable character, with a genuine congeniality that would warrant marriage, you can well afford to wait at least six months, and preferably a year, before marrying.

It is rather hasty (by conventional standards) for this family friend to propose marriage so early in your widowhood; but possibly he is motivated as much by compassion as by selfishness (or fear of rivalry). Maybe he felt it would help you to rally from grief, shock, etc., the sooner, if you

U.S. Free Public Education System Hailed by NEA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States system of free public education is essential and must be preserved, A. Ruth Stout, president of the National Education Assn., said today.

Public schools, she continued, are the joint responsibility of the people and their local, state and national government.

Her comments came against a background of schools being closed in Arkansas and Virginia in the wake of Supreme Court racial integration orders and wide discussion of plans to reopen some schools as private institutions.

Miss Stout, who heads an organization of some 616,000 teachers and educators, spoke at a closing session of the 13th annual national Conference on Citizenship at which 50 persons were naturalized in a special ceremony.

Intercity Rail Service Said On Last Legs

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner today predicted the disappearance of intercity railroad passenger train service within the next 12 years unless there is a reversal in travel trends.

The examiner, Howard Hosmer, based his predictions on an analysis of declining railroad patronage between 1947 and 1957. He said it indicated that parlor and sleeping car service will be gone by 1965 and coach service by 1970.

Commutation trains may be in operation for a time after that, Hosmer said, because it is not feasible to build enough highways in and out of heavily populated metropolitan areas to handle rush hour traffic.

Hosmer submitted his views to Hosmer said the basic difficulty from the railroads' standpoint is the American public's preference for travel by automobile, which now accounts for more than 90 per cent of all intercity transportation.

Looking at the World's News through the Camera's Eye

IN SORE STRAIT—Flight deck of the U. S. carrier Midway hums with activity as planes are prepared for launching to fly patrol in the Strait of Formosa. Supplying Quemoy is the big problem.

THE WORLD'S BEST FOR FORMOSA—Here are two of the U. S. Air Force's F-104 Starfighters, a squadron of which was sent to Formosa. A squadron numbers about 25. The Starfighter holds the world speed record of 1,404 mph, and world altitude record of 91,000 feet. That makes the Red China mainland five minutes from Formosa. Planes were taken to Formosa in Flying Boxcars.

CARRIES OFF CASH—Mrs. Beverly Trenary Knezevich, 29, Miss Indiana of 1947, walked out of her home in Gary, Ind., with her two children and the family's $28,000 savings. Her husband, Ray Knezevich, demanded return of the money. A warrant was issued for her arrest. Mrs. Knezevich's lawyer said she filed for divorce.

NEW ENVOY—George Yeh, Nationalist China's new Ambassador to the United States, is shown with Mrs. Anna Chennault, widow of Gen. Claire Chennault, after the diplomat arrived in Washington to take over his new post. At a news conference, Yeh said his government would not accept a Formosa Strait cease-fire suggested by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

LOOK INTO THE FUTURE—A model (top) stands beside the new experimental Firebird III in Detroit, Mich., where the General Motors car was built. The car is only 44.8 inches high at the top of the passenger canopies and 57 inches high at the tail. The rear view (bottom) shows the cluster of seven fins which serve as aerodynamic stabilizers. The Firebird III is powered by a rear-positioned improved whirlfire gas turbine engine. It will be shown at GM Motorama of 1959 in New York, Oct. 16.

OCEAN QUEEN—Construction work nears completion on the hull of the new ocean liner Leonardo Da Vinci in Genoa. The Italian Line's ship is scheduled for launching in November.

EYES PEELED—Miss Carroll is no plane Jane, but she certainly makes the plane spotting tower at Hampton Beach, N. H., look good to ground observers who keep eyes peeled for aircraft.

NURSERIES
NOW THEY KNOW—Now the head maternity nurses at Magee hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa., know what the score is. Here they are with their new babies, Mrs. A. Don Robb on left and Mrs. Daniel D. Perovich on right. Both had their daughters on the same day and both occupied same room.

BLIMP WENT BLOOEY—This is that U. S. Navy maverick blimp which acted up over Georgia and finally came to rest in this marshland near the Atlantic shore. Before it came down here it soared low enough for the crew to escape. Directional control was lost shortly after takeoff from Glyco Naval Air station near Brunswick, Ga. Then it lost its propellers and the fuel tank was broken in a landing attempt. Crew released helium to get low enough to escape.

QUINT HAS A TUPLET—First of the Dionne quintuplets to have a baby is Cecile, shown in Montreal with her husband, Philippe Langlois, 27. They named their son Claude.

NEXT CROSBY TO ALTAR HIS LIFE—Next Bing Crosby son scheduled to wed is Philip, shown with fiancée Sandra Drummond, 20, a Las Vegas, Nev., showgirl. They will wed after she completes her instruction in Roman Catholic faith.

HE LIKED HER FAT—Pamela Gant shows you her new waistline inside a skirt she wore when she was married in London and weighed 240 pounds, measured 47-35-54. She reduced to that present 38-25-38 and lost her husband, John Endicott. He complained that she was no longer the same girl he fell in love with, so they separated.

THEY WENT IN—Shorts-clad cheer leaders stand on Little Rock Central High school steps on day school was to open, but didn't. They went in anyhow. One giggled, "Here I am."

ROMANCE SOUTH OF THE BORDER—Film actor Ernest Borgnine and Mexican actress Katy Jurado are shown enjoying the Ice Follies in Los Angeles, before departure for Mexico, where he announced they would wed. The news rocked Mrs. Rhoda Borgnine, who divorced him only two weeks before.

BLOOMERS—Roses bloom at hemline of this Twi-Lite Dance Frocks bubble skirt. It's of Eastman Chromspun acetate.

GOING TO SCHOOL, GOING TO SCHOOL, GOING TO SCHOOL, GOING TO SCHOOL—The Silas Pinkham quadruplets start a new life as they report to school for the first time in Standish, Me. Now six years old, the youngsters are (from left) Rebecca, Melissa, Jane and William. The children are the only living quadruplets in all of northern New England.

AIR BRAKES—Described as a missile that "can knock down any aircraft or... missile that flies today," a new Nike Hercules missile (rear) was unveiled by the Army during dedication ceremonies at the new missile base in Davidsonville, Md. The base was designed to protect the nation's capital, 25 miles away, and surrounding area. The 5,000-pound Nike Hercules is a surface-to-air missile with atomic warhead. In front of the Hercules is a Nike Ajax, which has guarded strategic U. S. areas for more than four years.

GO AWAY, this little girl on Quemoy seems to be telling the fotog. Doesn't like hat, maybe.

NATIONALIST SHIP HELPED HOME—A Nationalist China pursuit craft (right) is towed away after being battered in the battle to reinforce Quemoy. Towing it is a minesweeper. The craft was being towed to Pescadore islands. (Radiophoto)

Midwest Grid Roundup

Offensive-Minded Iowa To Stress Pass Attack

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series on the major football teams in the Midwest.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

IOWA CITY, Ia. — Randy Duncan, the very able University of Iowa quarterback, went to Europe on a freighter this summer. He returned in time for the opening of football drills here. Big Ten foes of Iowa wish he had stayed over there.

Possibly because Duncan is back as the key to the Hawkeye offense Iowa again is rated among the top teams in the loop.

Last year the 180-pound senior from Des Moines broke four Iowa passing records as he led the Big Ten in total offense and guided the Hawkeyes to a 7-1-1 season, which now gives the boys from the tall corn country a two-year record of 16 wins, two losses and one tie, which is better than that sported by either Ohio State or Michigan State.

What does Evey think of Duncan?

"We think," he said, "that he is one of the great passers in the country. Our throwing should be real good and our whole story is that we're going to move the ball. Our offense, led by Duncan, should be as good as it was the last two years."

Evy, the rough and tough coach who is starting his seventh year as head man here, also had this to say: "We've got to make the throwing game go this year because we have small backs and a weaker line."

Evy's big concern up front is the drop-off from the first team to the second in tackle and guard positions. Gone are such performers as Alex Karras and Dick Klein and the fine end, Jim Gibbons.

However, back again are 17 lettermen including a first-team unit and four others on the second squad.

The ends are Curt Merz and Don Norton, both juniors, with Bob Prescott and Jeff Langston up close. Langston missed the 1957 season following an injury in a the Rose Bowl game. His hip dis-location is mended and he is looking fine.

Two fine tackles bulwark the front wall in John Burroughs, at 220, and Mac Lewis, who weighs 230. Burroughs could be better than All-American Karras on offense.

The guards are Gary Grounkel, 210, and Hugh Drake, 195. Both could be used as linebackers. A fine prospect at guard is Bill Ringer, a sophomore from Flint, Mich., who was a quarterback. Bill Lephem, 230-pound giant, is the center.

A sophomore, Mitchell Ogles, from Gary, Ind., has moved into the No. 2 quarterback slot behind Duncan and ahead of Olen Treadway, a letterman.

At the halfback slots are Bob Jeter and Ray Jauch, both lettermen, with Geno Sessi, a bit weak defensively, in the wings. Two outstanding fill-ins here are Willie Fleming, a sophomore from Detroit who has explosive speed and could be the breakout boy, and Kevin Furlong, a senior.

Bill Gravel, who piled up 265 yards in 83 carries last year, is having a bit of scholastic difficulty and is not ready. He did a bit of fumbling last year which didn't make Evy happy.

The Hawks have fine fullbacks led by John Nocera, the 210-pound battering ram from Youngstown, O., and Don Horn, from Detroit.

An outstanding sophomore on the line who can play either left or right end is Allan Miller, from Flint. He is expected to develop into one of the Hawkeye stars.

Some criticism has been leveled against Iowa's schedule for the Hawks open against Texas Christian and the Air Force before getting into their Big Ten schedule. Other foes are Indiana, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio State and finally Notre Dame.

Another banner crowd year is expected. A new record is seen as the stadium has been increased to 59,000. A new $450,000 press box has been built. The stadium was built in 1929 for $500,000.

Bronco Grid Crew Halts Piketon, 14-0

Ashville High School's grid force gained a decisive 14-0 decision last night at Piketon.

Both Bronco touchdowns came in the final quarter. The Ashville outfit scored a TD in the first half, but the tally was called back as the result of an offside penalty.

The Broncos' first drive to pay-dirt was climaxed on an 11-yard pass play from quarterback Bill Hollenback to end Bob Hoover. Halfback Phil Roese picked up the second tally on a pitchout play which covered 14 yards.

Hollenback, moved to quarter-back only this week, completed five of 14 passes, with Hoover on the receiving end of each aerial.

ROESE, taking over Hollenback's left half post, was the Bronco's leading ground gainer with 89 yards in 16 tries. Hollenback picked up an additional 76 yards on 15 carries and fullback Frank Gloyd had 47 yards in 14 cracks at the line.

Coach Russ Gregg said his offensive unit showed vast improvement over last week's 28-0 losing effort at Berne Union. The Bronco proved this point by registering 12 first downs on 212 yards rushing and 64 passing. Piketon was held to seven first downs.

Coach Gregg also praised his defensive men who did a good job in containing Piketon's single wing offense. Tackle Howard Newton turned in his usual stellar play at tackle as did Bob Peters on the other side of the line.

Coach Gregg also singled out the defensive efforts of Hoover, Dale Fout, Steve Stover, Bill Haddox and Bob Featheringham. Featheringham was in action for the first time after suffering an early practice back injury.

Bill Cromley also turned in a good job as defensive safety man. The Bronco's open Darby Valley league play Friday with a trip to Mt. Sterling.

4 SCOL Teams Win Contests

Four South Central Ohio League teams earned victories while Circleville and Franklin Heights were absorbing defeats last night.

Columbus Rosary edged Circleville, 6-0, and Westerville downed Franklin Heights, 14-6.

Greenfield McClain, last year's SCOL champs, topped Waverly, 8-0. The week before McClain tied Jackson, 6-6.

Washington C. H. picked up its first win in two outings by downing Grove City, 21-7. Last week the Blue Lions dropped an 8-6 decision to Logan.

WILMINGTON picked up its second straight win with a 36-12 job over Lebanon. The Hurricane's first win was a 12-6 verdict over Franklin.

Hillsboro gained its first win in two starts by blasting Lancaster BIS, 14-0. The Indians' opener was spoiled by West Carrollton, 18-0.

Ike, Mamie To See Big Yacht Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower go aboard the destroyer Mitscher for a cruise into the nearby Atlantic today to watch the start of the America's Cup races.

The President and the first lady arranged to take along a party of friends for a look from a choice anchorage, off Brenton Point, at the match between the United States' defender, Columbia, and Sceptre, the British challenger.

Columbia, well-tested in 29 trial races, is the favorite in the renewal of the storied series, which began when the schooner-America defeated 17 English opponents in a race around the Isle of Wight in 1851.

The 493-foot Mitscher was to take the Eisenhowers and their party aboard at the U.S. naval base at midmorning for the short run south in Narragansett Bay to the race site.

Eisenhower aides at the summer White House said they doubted the President would stay on hand for all of the first heat, lasting about three hours. America's Cup goes to the sloop taking four out of seven heats in the next few days.

Cleveland Browns To Host Detroit in Final Exhibition

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Defending National Football League champion Detroit takes on Cleveland tonight as the pro exhibition season closes with a six-game weekend schedule.

Detroit, sporting a lackluster 2-2 record in preseason play, will be making a last attempt for an impressive exhibition showing in the night's only game.

The Browns (2-3) will have the edge of playing on their home grounds.

Sunday's wrap-up is headed by the Chicago Bears at Washington contest. The Bears, 5-0, and the only undefeated team, will be facing their toughest test against the Redskins, the Eastern Conference exhibition leader with a 3-2 mark.

Green Bay meets Chicago's Cardinals at Minneapolis, Philadelphia is at San Francisco, Baltimore plays New York at Louisville and Pittsburgh is at Los Angeles in other Sunday games.

New Enthusiasm Displayed By Patti Page for TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Four months ago a discouraged Patti Page was ready to quit television. She never talked about it publicly, but her friends knew that she felt the Patti Page show was everybody's show except Patti Page's.

Today a refreshed and excited Miss Page is on the threshold of a new television season. Next Wednesday (Sept. 24) her new weekly half-hour musical series makes its debut on ABC-TV.

She declines to discuss her last season's program on CBS-TV except to say that "everybody tried very hard." It can be said, however, that too many cooks were spoiling the show conducted by that broth of a singer Patti Page; her own ideas of how it should be run were largely ignored.

Now, with a new production staff, she says, "This is my idea of a show. I know that it's quite the fashion this television season to say that you're having a show with a no-format format. But it is true of our new show. You'll see when it goes on.

"None of the programs will have a theme," Miss Page says. "It might be called a musical variety show, but it's not a variety show in the sense that I come out with a guest and say, 'Let's sing,' and then we do a duet."

Is she banning rock 'n' roll music, which some viewers found the bane of last season's series?

"Nothing is banned on the new show," she says. "But it definitely is not a rock 'n' roll program. And it's not just a musical series. We'll have comedians and other guests who can't sing or play even a harmonica."

As with many other shows, hers faces the problem of obtaining talented and "different" guests.

"There's plenty of guest talent," she says. "The problem is less in obtaining sufficient guests than in obtaining sufficient money to pay them."

A long vacation this summer was a big help, she feels, in getting ready for a long TV season. She and her husband, dance director Charles O'Curran, spent two weeks in Jamaica and then visited her family in her native Claremore, Okla., before driving to the west coast.

'Greatness' Returns to Big Newk

CINCINNATI (AP) — Big Don Newcombe is his own biggest disappointment this year, but he still can show a flare of his old greatness.

A significant 7-1 victory by Cincinnati's Redlegs over the Milwaukee Braves gave him a chance to show his finest fling.

He stopped the Braves cold on eight hits and made himself useful generally, batting in one run and starting one double play Friday night.

The bulky righthander was 0-6 for the Los Angeles Dodgers early this year after tearing an arm muscle in the first game.

When he came to the Redlegs, he said he was starting clean. His record here is 6-8.

The victory fended off the Braves' efforts to secure at least a tie for the National League pennant. Their only rival, the Pittsburgh Pirates, kept in the running with a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia.

The victory was significant for the Reds this year in the light of the near perfect control the Braves have had this season, winning 12 games to the Reds' 3.

But you wouldn't know it from the 10-hit Redleg attack. Jerry Lynch led teammates, fattening his average to .313 with a homer, triple and a double.

Hank Aaron, No. 4 hitter in the league, marked time with a two-for-four performance, knocking in the only Brave run with a single.

The Braves have another crack at clinching a tie and perhaps the pennant this afternoon. They nominated an old Redleg troublemaker, Lew Burdette, to face Bob Purkey.

Fine Pheasant Season Ahead

Experts Say Bird Population Is High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The best pheasant shooting since 1950 was predicted today for Ohio's hunters. The season runs from Nov. 15 through Dec. 6.

Bill Edwards, farm game supervisor for the State Wildlife Division, said an Ohio-wide survey shows spring rains have not harmed pheasant reproduction. The same survey shows rabbits are up 30 per cent from last year in southeastern Ohio, but down slightly in the upper section of the state.

Deer hunters also came in for some good news. State game technicians predict 5,000 bucks or does will be taken this fall.

The Wildlife Division said the state's deer population is approximately 30,000. The shotgun season for deer runs from Dec. 10 through Dec. 13, with the bow-and-arrow season from Oct. 15 through Dec. 31.

The season is statewide for either buck or doe, and hunters must have a $5.25 deer license in addition to the $2.25 hunting permit.

Southeastern Ohio hunters may soon be gathering pheasant on their home grounds for the first time. Five hundred Reeves pheasants, colorful cousins of the ring-neck, were released in Jefferson County last week. Other such releases are scheduled in Harrison, Belmont, Monroe and Washington counties by Oct. 12.

Several other species are being studied, and will be "planted" in Ohio if the current experiment fails. The studies are being made at the Waterloo Experiment Station near Athens.

Extra Wife Fouling Up Man's Estate

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Author John McPartland's estate got a little more complicated — one more wife and another child.

That runs the total to three women, two of them married, and seven children. The additions came out in Superior Court at nearby Salinas as Mrs. Ida McPartland was named temporary special administratrix of his estate.

Ida said the author of the best-selling book "No Down Payment" was the father of her son Donald, 10. She also repeated that he had fathered five children of Eleanor McPartland, to whom he was not married, and added that he had a 21-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

The eldest daughter's name is Cynthia, Ida said, although she did not make public the name of that wife or give details.

The writer's tangled life came to light after he died when Ida explained to newspapermen that obituary notices were incorrect in listing Eleanor as the widow. Ida declared she married McPartland in 1943 at Tyler, Tex., and that they were never separated legally.

Eleanor was Monterey's Mother of the Year in 1956. Ida lives 125 miles away from this art colony, at Mill Valley north of San Francisco.

McPartland died of a heart attack Sunday at the home of Eleanor.

Schoolhouse Has Become Pleasant Home

Building Changed
But Not Ash Tree
Well Remembered

Remember the big tree in the schoolyard when you were a kid? To most of us that big tree is only a nostalgic memory. To Paul Stevens, Route 1, Circleville, the tree is a reality.

He remodeled the schoolhouse and is living in the shade of the big old ash tree he knew as a youngster when he went to Rice School where Miss Anna Pontious was teacher.

"And the tree was just about as big then as it is now," says Stevens.

The schoolhouse was built about 85 years ago. Stevens attended the school about 1912. And while old-timers might not recognize the schoolhouse they all know the old ash tree under which they played and ate their lunches on warm days.

Right next door to the Stevens' remodeled schoolhouse is another house, made from the old Rice Church. The Stevens lived there for 14 years.

The Stevens' son and his family live in the old churchhouse.

Altogether, the Stevens property encompasses about one and a half acres of land on the Zane Trail which crosses Route 56 east of Circleville.

IT IS AS pleasant a home site

CONVERSION — At left is a picture of the old Rice schoolhouse with the ash tree in the front yard. It has been converted to a dwelling now, at right, and the old tree still stands, a part of the landscape about the converted building.

as can be imagined. The Stevens have fenced in their yard, with a white board fence. Flowers are planted along the fence, around the foundation of the house and in a bed around the two-car garage.

Right now zinnias are stealing the show. In the spring it's the oriental poppies around the garage that take your breath away. The poppies, started from seed given to them by a Williamsport woman, were all orange-red at first. Now there are dark red, pink and orchid-rose poppies.

There's a meadow on the other side of the fence with a calf for butchering and there's a tomato patch with the finest biggest tomatoes we have seen yet. They are "mortgage lifters". Stevens said he weighed three tomatoes in a basket and was surprised to find that just the three of them weighed seven pounds. One alone weighed over two pounds.

The schoolhouse has been made into a five-room modern, pleasant home. The Stevens have been living here for three years now.

When they lived in the churchhouse people were always trying to buy the schoolhouse. Stevens said he kept thinking it would make a nice home so in August, 1955 he wore off the belfry and started in on the remodeling job. By February the Stevens had moved into the new place.

What's more Stevens and a friend with whom he works at Container Corporation did almost all the work themselves aside from their regular jobs.

Outside help included a plasterer, a brick layer and a plumber. The old well used by the school is an excellent water supply.

Some remodeled schoolhouses still retain that schoolhouse look. But the Stevens' house does not. One of the reasons is that the 13½ foot ceilings with the attic above were knocked down to eight and one half foot ceilings. Another reason is that the high foundation has been filled in with sod.

Stevens says that ceiling joists were 32 feet long and made of 2 x 12 lumber. Mrs. Stevens says there was a lot of brick carrying because the coatroom partitions were all brick. The small entry way and cloakrooms were removed. The house now has a large airy front room (five windows beside the new picture window) a kitchen, hallway, bath and three bedrooms.

THE FOUNDATION is made of limestone and the front stoop and steps are big blocks of limestone. When a neighbor, the late Mrs. Sudie Rudicill learned the Stevens were planning to remodel the schoolhouse she told them to treasure the limestone stoop. That is just as it was during its schoolhouse days.

No, you wouldn't recognize the old schoolhouse but the ash tree is just the same.

Do Flower Arrangements Need Flowers?

Expert Says No;
Debate Now Splits
Japanese Arrangers

By KENNETH ISHII
TOKYO (AP) — Take a couple of chunks of driftwood, a rusty piece of tin, add some broken glass and paper.

Put them together in a moment of inspiration—and the result can be a magnificent example of the modern school of "flower" arranging.

Working on these principles, Sofu Teshigawara has become one of Asia's most discussed artists. Since 1927, when he made his debut at a Tokyo exhibition, Sofu has been the center of a passionate controversy between those who look upon him as the man who breathed new life into Ikebana—the ancient Japanese art of flower arranging — and those who view him as a madman and destroyer of artistic values.

In Japan where millions are enrolled in flower arranging schools and the art is considered a way of life, the great debate is as pertinent as that which whirled around the heads of Cezanne, Matisse, and the earlier impressionist painters when they broke with the past.

ALL WELL-BRED girls are educated in flower arranging and nearly every Japanese home has a special alcove called a "tokonoma" where a graceful display is placed for guests to admire. There are more than 300 different flower arranging "schools" in Japan.

Recently one magazine printed a running debate between Teshigawara and an Ikebana traditionalist who blasted his creations as "monstrosities that imitate foreign avant-garde painters for the sake of attracting attention."

But at 58, Sofu now has more than 500,000 devoted followers, including some 10,000 Americans.

Sofu's revolutionary approach decreed that anything could be used in arrangements. As he said in a recent interview:

"My emphasis is on symbolism. My creations are meant rather to provide an impact on the emotions—such as strength, gentleness, bravery, happiness. In the 'Sofu' way, a pine can cease to be a pine. It can take on various symbolic meanings depending upon the creator and the viewer."

"It is also satisfying to use dead objects, such as dead leaves. They lend themselves to more versatility in application than live objects, and when applied to a creation, even dead objects can take on a new life, a new meaning through the symbolic satisfaction they render."

In most of the traditional schools, arrangements embody three fundamental principles, known as heaven, earth and man. The "Sofu" school has adopted these three principles in revised form.

A traditional simple arrangement might consist of one tree branch in which one twig tilting upward represents heaven, a twig on the right denotes man and another twig represents earth.

SOFU FOUGHT an uphill battle for years to win acceptance of his new theories that any material at hand could be used to work out the same symbolic trinity.

The bald, diminutive artist got a big break when, in the early postwar days, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters called on him to teach flower arranging to wives of U. S. officers including Mrs. MacArthur.

The foreign pupils took readily to Teshigawara's medium with the result that there are almost 3,000 Americans now in the United States, by the master's estimate,

Garden Gossip

Bom Chang, school teacher from Burma who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Defenbaugh, Route 1, Laurelvile said after viewing the County Fair flower show that the same flowers are to be found in Burma. This was especially surprising after we learned that Burma is a land of jungles and heat. Mr. Chang, however, said that hemlock trees abounding in the Hocking County Hills were quite unfamiliar to him.

Mrs. Fred Minshall, Route 1, Kingston, reports several aster plants of deep cream - to-yellow color. Mrs. Minshall grows asters year after year and has never before seen this color. She even looked up yellow asters in Burpee's seed catalogue without finding such a color. We hope she reports this to David Burpee. He is ever on the lookout for a color change. Or better yet Virginia Minshall herself may be on the threshold of developing a yellow aster.

Praises are being sung to Burpee's Climax marigolds all over the county. Everybody who shelled out the buck (they were a dollar a package) is well satisfied with the expenditure.

Ohio Physics Teachers To Study by TV

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some teachers will begin doing next month what children have been dreaming about for years—staying home, watching television and still getting credit for going to school.

Three Ohio colleges plan to give credit for teachers who take advanced work by viewing the "atomic age physics" television course offered by the National Broadcasting Co. beginning Oct. 6.

A regional meeting of the American Assn. of Colleges for Teacher Education Thursday worked out details for the course. Teachers will receive college credits for watching the daily half-hour (6:30 to 7 a.m., EST) program and attending weekly seminars on college campuses.

Ohio State University, Ohio Wesleyan University and St. Mary of the Springs College will give credit for the course and other colleges in television coverage range are expected to follow suit.

Central Ohio Teachers Select New Officers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Charles J. Pickens, superintendent of Mount Vernon public schools, has been elected president of the Central Ohio Teachers Assn. W. A. Smith, Washington Court House school superintendent, was named vice president Friday.

Cincinnati Ford Aides Show Up for Paychecks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Employees of Ford Motor Co.'s two plants here showed up to collect their paychecks Friday, but didn't stay. Negotiations on seniority and other issues that affect only these plants are deadlocked and there is little chance the workers will go back to their jobs until after Monday, at least.

planted both the yellow and orange Climax marigolds. They are equally satisfactory and look almost like football mums in arrangements. Well, maybe that's a little exaggerated. But they are whoopers.

Mrs. Hott has an interesting collection of pine cones. She has every conceivable variety grown locally. Where does she find them? Cemeteries are excellent hunting grounds for pine cones, she says.

GARDENERS HAVE lots of fun visiting each other's gardens. At Georgia Hott's, for instance, I ran across Hannah Peters and Ada Engle. Mrs. Engle laughed when we congratulated her again on winning "best of show" awards on both days of the county fair flower show. She said she really enjoyed the show. No wonder!

Speaking of color breaks there's an albino thistle growing along our roadside.

Exotic as the blossom of passion vine is, it's no good for flower shows. We have yet to see an arrangement when it has held up even long enough for judging.

With all the horticultural knowledge to be found among garden club members it's rare indeed to have a flower in your garden that people are not perfectly familiar with. But at the workshop a couple of weeks ago at my house, nobody recognized my dwarf lace plant. It's one of the best ground covers for sunny places. In early September it has airy sprays of pink flowers—well more coral-colored or salmon - very like the flowers on the silver lace vine. The

Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs Holds 28th Annual Meeting

According to at least one delegate who attended the 28th annual convention of Ohio Association of Garden Clubs held September 10 and 11 at Bowling Green the style show featuring costumes and matching corsages was an outstanding event of the affair.

The style show topped the garden clinics, the lectures, the banquet and even the two flower shows, for this particular convention goer, a gal, of course.

Models for the style show were Ohio Association Garden Club members and they walked to the end of the ramp displaying the autumn fashions, many of which were knit suits. At the end of the ramp a Bowling Green florist pinned a matching corsage on the model's costume and she again traversed the ramp to show how much the proper corsage could add to a dress.

Corsages were pinned to the handbags, the muffs, the wrists, the shoulders and even the back of the model's costume.

Registration started at 9 a. m. September 10. Clinics, yearbook, program, radio, television, publicity, junior garden club and horticulture were held during the morning.

FOLLOWING these Prof. Victor H. Ries conducted a general horticultural panel.

Carlton B. Lees lectured on "Glamorizing Flower Shows". Lees is now horticulturist at Kingwood Center. He taught landscape botanical name for dwarf lace plant is Polygonum Renowitzia.

And speaking of unknown flowers in the "Going Fishin'" class at the fair show there was an arrangement of blue flowers that I did not recognize. The spike material was the giant blue lobelia that grows along the roadside but there was another flower that was a little gem as far as I was concerned. We'd really like to know what it was.

Now is the time to see Anemone Japonica at its best. And nowhere is it found in more profusion and beauty than at the M. E. Noggle's plant it right along with their roses where it gets the best of care. Myrtle was giving plants away last spring because it was beginning to edge out the roses. This anemone is a darling. But its petals are apt to shatter in arrangements. It's so attractive arrangers can plan to replace the shattered flowers each day or two. It's well worth extra work.

It takes an extra special gardener to harvest a crop of love apples. The bright orange little fruits are invaluable to give color to dried arrangements. Love apples are tender perennials and have to be wintered over in the house generally. Mrs. Schubert Measamer successfully wintered hers and is now harvesting a crop. Mrs. Turney Pontius planted her seeds very early this spring and she too has a crop to harvest.

Mrs. George Huskey, Route 1, Laurelvile, successfully raised okra this year. If you're interested in dried arrangements it will pay to get on the good side of Mrs. Huskey. Okra is not too hard to raise but local seed racks never seem to have it. That means you must include it with your flower seed order. And it's easy to forget it.

design at the University of West Virginia at one time. A graduate of the University of Connecticut he also did graduate work at Cornell University. In his capacity as horticulturist Lees edits Kingwood Center's Notes, lectures on horticultural subjects and is responsible for Kingwood flower shows.

The two flower shows at the convention were entitled, "The Gardener's Challenge" and "Preview to Christmas".

A tea, honoring Mrs. Frederick Wassman, state OAGC president, past state presidents and President and Mrs. Ralph McDonald of Bowling Green University, was held between 4 and 5 p. m.

The banquet took place in the ballroom of the University Union. Awards were presented at this time. The featured speaker for the evening was Rutherford Platt of New York who lectured on "The Living Ice Age." Platt served as photographer and botanist on the McMillan Arctic Expedition to North Greenland. His photographs made up the illustrations for his lecture.

Mrs. M. A. Williams, Rocky River, demonstrated "Tables for Autumn Entertaining".

Attending the convention from Pickaway County were Mrs. Harry Trump and Mrs. James Hott, Soliqua Garden Club, Mrs. Guy Gulick, Commercial Point Garden Club, Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Mary Smith, Monrovia Garden Club, Mrs. Edward Schleigh, Deer creek and Floyd Bartley, Circleville Garden Club.

Don Hibbs examines rows of gladioli where the California flower grower is testing the new weed-killing substance.

New Super Weed-Killer Due

By OWEN CALLIN

VISTA, Calif. — On a 40-acre flower farm in southern California an agricultural miracle is taking place.

No longer will there be a man with a hoe nor will the office worker with a home garden show up on Monday morning with a back aching from pulling weeds as a result of this phenomenon.

With the same impact as penicillin in the field of medicine a substance called neburon promises to be a miracle "drug" in the field of agriculture.

It's a solution which kills weeds but leaves the growing crop unharmed! And although it has been tested so far only on flowers such as gladioli and stocks, it is entirely conceivable that it will work on any kind of cultivated crop.

Don Hibbs is sold on the substance and he is the commercial cut flower grower who has been testing it for the past two years. Also convinced are agents of the California Agricultural Extension service, who have been watching the experiments closely.

Hibbs grows two kinds of gladioli — those for their bulbs and those for the beautiful flowers which are cut and shipped to floral markets throughout the United States.

"MOST WEED killer sprays damage the corns, or bulbs, and herbicides which burn and kill weeds can't tell the difference between a weed and a cultivated plant," Hibbs points out.

"But that neburon — you'd almost say it could think!" Hibbs says the substance, the formula of which is a closely-kept secret known only by the manufacturer, is not on sale anywhere in the United States with the exception of the state of Pennsylvania, which has given it the green light.

Cost of the substance is approximately $27 an acre. "My weeding bills have been much higher than that," Hibbs says.

In one area Hibbs sprayed the ground with a two-pound-per-acre mixture; another area has a three-pound solution and a third area a six-pound mixture so that the most effective solution can be determined.

A fourth area has no neburon whatsoever where the weeds may flourish and comparisons are made.

The flower grower explains that neburon had no effect on weeds already sprouted. "It penetrates the ground to a depth of three or four inches and kills the weed spores," he says.

Once the solution—made by mixing powdered neburon with water—is sprayed on the ground, the ground cannot be disturbed, Hibbs pointed out. This means no cultivation, the only detrimental factor.
